THE
LAWS OF CRICKET,

AS REVISED BY THE

CRICKET-CLUB, at MARYLEBONE,

1800.

THE BALL must weigh not less than five ounces and a half, not more than five ounces and three quarters. At the beginning of each innings either party may call for a new ball.

THE BAT

Must not exceed four inches and one quarter in the widest part.

THE STUMPS

Must be twenty-four inches out of the ground, the BAIL seven inches in length.

THE BOWLING CREASE

Must be in a line with the stumps, three feet in length, with a RETURN-CREASE.

THE POPPING CREASE

Must be three feet ten inches from the wicket, and parallel to it.

THE WICKETS

Must be opposite to each other, at the distance of twenty-two yards.

THE PARTY WHICH GOES FROM HOME

Shall have the choice of the innings, and the pitching of the wickets, which shall be pitched within thirty yards of a centre fixed by the adversaries.

When the parties meet at a third place, the bowlers shall toss up for the pitching of the wickets and the choice of going in.

It shall not be lawful for either party during a match, without the consent of the other, to alter the ground, by rolling, watering, covering, mowing, or beating. This rule is not meant to prevent the striker from beating the ground with his bat near where he stands during the innings, or to prevent the bowler from filling up holes, watering his ground, or using sawdust, &c. when the ground is wet.

THE BOWLER

Shall deliver the ball with one foot behind the bowling-crease, and within the return-crease, and shall bowl four balls before he changes wickets, which he shall do but once in the same innings.

He may order a striker, at his wicket, to stand on which side of it he pleases.

THE STRIKER IS OUT,

If the bail is bowled off, or the stump bowled out of the ground.

Or, if the ball, from a stroke over or under his bat, or upon his hand, (but not wrists,) is held before it touches the ground, although it be hugged to the body of the catcher,

Or, if in striking, or at any other time while the ball is in play, both his feet are over the popping-crease and his wicket put down, except his bat is grounded within it.

Or, if in striking at the ball he hits down his wicket,—

Or, if under pretence of running a notch, or otherwise, either of the strikers prevent a ball from being caught, the striker of the ball is out.

Or, if the ball is struck up, and he wilfully strikes it again.

Or, if running a notch, the wicket is struck down by a throw, or with the ball in hand, before his foot, hand, or bat, is grounded over the popping-crease. But, if the bail is off, the stump must be struck out of the ground.

Or, if the striker touches or takes up the ball while in play, unless at the request of the opposite party.

If with his foot or leg he stops the ball, which the bowler, in the opinion of the umpire at the bowler's wicket, shall have pitched in a straight line to the wicket, and would have hit it.

If the players have crossed each other, he that runs for the wicket which is put down is out; if they are not crossed, he that has left the wicket which is put down is out.

When a ball is caught, no notch to be reckoned.

When a striker is run out, the notch they were running for is not be reckoned.

When the ball has been in the bowler's or wicket keeper's hands, it is considered as no longer in play, and the strikers need not keep within their ground till the umpire has called play; but, if the player goes out of his ground with an intent to run before the ball is delivered, the bowler may put him out.

If the striker is hurt, he may retire from his wicket, and have his innings at any time in that innings.

If a striker is hurt, some person may be allowed to stand out for him but not go in.

If any person stops the ball with his hat, the ball is to be considered as dead, and the opposite party to add five notches to their score; if any are run, they are to have five in all.

If the ball is struck up, the striker may guard his wicket either with his bat or his body.

In single-wicket matches, if the striker moves out of his ground to strike at the ball, he shall be allowed no notch for such stroke.

THE WICKET KEEPER

Shall stand at a reasonable distance behind the wicket, and shall not move till the ball is out of the bowler's hand, and shall not by any noise incommode the striker; and, if his hands, knees, feet, or head, be over or before the wicket, though the ball hit it, it shall not be out.

THE UMPIRES

Are the sole judges of fair and unfair play, and all disputes shall be determined by them; each at his own wicket: but, in case of a catch, which the umpire at the wicket cannot see sufficiently to decide upon, he may apply to the other umpire, whose opinion is conclusive.

They shall allow two minutes for each man to come in, and fifteen minutes between each innings; when the umpire shall call play, the party refusing to play shall loose the match.

They are not to order a player out, unless appealed to by the adversaries.

But, if the bowler's foot is not behind the bowling-crease, and within the return-crease, when he delivers the ball, they must, unasked, call no ball.

If the striker runs a short notch, the umpire must call no notch.

That the umpire at the bowler's wicket shall be first applied to, to decide on all catches.

The umpires are not to be changed during the match, but by the consent of both parties.

BETS.

If the notches of one player are laid against another, the bets depend on the first innings, unless otherwise specified.

If the bets are made upon both innings, and one party beats the other in one innings, the notches in the first innings shall determine the bet.

But, if the other party goes in a second time, then the bet must be determined by the number on the score.

S O N G

On the GAME of CRICKET.

ASSIST all ye Muses, and join to rehearse
 An old English Sport, never prais'd yet in verse;
 'Tis Cricket I sing, of illustrious fame,
 No nation e'er boasted so noble a game.

Great Pinder has bragg'd of his heroes of old,
 Some were swift in the race, some in battle were bold;
 The brows of the victor with olive were crown'd;
 Hark! they shout, and Olympia returns the glad sound.

What boasting of Castor, and Pollux his brother,
 The one fam'd for riding, for bruising the other;
 But compar'd with our heroes, they'll not shine at all,
 What are Castor and Pollux, to Nyren and Small?

Here's guarding and catching, and throwing and tossing,
 And bowling and striking, and running and crossing;
 Each mate must excel in some principal part,
 The Pentathlon of Greece cou'd not show so much art.

The parties are met, and array'd all in white,
 Fam'd Elis ne'er boasted so pleasing a sight;
 Each Nymph looks askew at her favourite Swain,
 And views him half stript, both with pleasure and pain.

The wickets are pitch'd now, and measur'd the ground,
 Then they form a large ring, and stand gazing around;
 Since Achilles fought Hector, in fight of all Troy,
 No contest was seen, with such fears and such joy.

Ye bowlers, take heed, to my precepts attend,
 On you the whole fate of the game must depend;
 Spare your vigour at first, nor exert all your strength,
 Then measure each step, and be sure pitch a length

Ye strikers, observe, when the foe shall draw nigh,
 Mark the bowler advancing with vigilant eye;
 Your skill all depends upon distance and fight,
 Stand firm in your scratch, let your bat be upright,

Ye fieldsmen, look sharp, lest your pains you beguile,
Move close, like an army, in rank and in file;
When the ball is return'd, back it sure, for I trow,
Whole states have been ruin'd by one overthrow.

The sport is now o'er, lo! victory rings,
Echo doubles the chorus, and fame spreads her wings;
Let us now hail our champions, all steady and true,
Such as Homer ne'er sung of, nor Pinder e'er knew.

Buck, Curry, and Hogslesh, and Barber and Brett,
Whose swiftness in bowling was ne'er equal'd yet;
I had almost forgot (they deserve a large bumper)
Little George the long stop, and Tom Suter the stumper.

Then why should we fear either Sackville, or Mann,
Or repine at the loss both of Bayton and Land;
With such troops as these we'll be Lords of the Game;
Spite of Minchin and Miller, and Lumpy and Frame.

Then fill up your glass, he's the best who drinks most;
Here's the Hambleton Club, who refuses the toast?
Let us join in the praise of the bat and the wicket,
And sing in full chorus of the patrons of Cricket.

And when the game's o'er, and our fate shall draw nigh,
For the heroes of Cricket like others must die,
Our bats we'll resign, neither troubled nor vex,
And give up our wickets to those that come next.

THE END.
